SKIN features

- The skin forms an invisible barrier between our inner and outer world. Our form being held together by gazillions of electrons held together by forces to give us our outline and hold the body together. Electrons never touch.
- The skin is an amazing feat of Nature's Technology, being waterproof yet able to release water (sweat), washable, temperature controlling, self-mending and sensitive to touch
- It is the largest detox organ of the body so cannot be blocked in anyway causing a build up of toxins in another organ of the body,

- The skin reflects who we are, what we eat, drink and how well we sleep.
- Feelings pass through neurotransmitters resulting in blushing, red with anger, white or sweat with fear.
- The products used on our skin therefore, need to be quantum, food state, organic, authentic and not block the passage between our inner and outer world.

- “thick” skinned people appear less sensitive to feelings or criticism, “thin” skinned appear highly sensitive
- Skin issues are about touch and feel issues
- Touching is the most basic form of communication and is essential to life – without it young babies will deteriorate mentally and physically
- Without physical contact adults feel lonely and deprived and develop mental illnesses, as if shrivelling up inside a shell

- Through your skin you communicate your feelings with another person
- You give and receive reassurance, love and caring, and the knowledge that you are safe
- Touch can also be traumatic and invoke fears based on past experiences
- Skin is the primary sex organ as its sensitivity is so stimulating, but such sensitivity can make one feel hot with anger, fear or resentment, if it is abused
- “Who is getting under your skin?”

HAIR

- Connected to our animal/primitive past
- Hair made from cells in the skin that harden as they get pushed upward
- Each hair follicle contains a small muscle which makes the hair stand upright when you get frightened
- Growth is affected by stress as this can limit blood flow throughout the muscles and skin
- Hair is less affected by severe stress that affects the nerves and is seen in white strands resulting from trauma
- Follicles get infected by parasites and mites
- Dandruff

Nails

- Also a reminder of the nail nature like hair
- Very long nails are symbolic of the diva of passion and sexuality, and yet also indicative of aggression and self-protection
- Bear the brunt of the external fingers
- Associated with the smaller things in life
- Suffer when you look too far ahead and do not notice the smaller issues or details going on closer to home
- Nail biting
 - Stress, nervousness, tension or insecurity
 - Eating yourself
 - deep self dislike, fear of expressing sexuality or assertiveness as it is a way of limiting any aggressive or sexually dominating tendencies
 - There may be a deep fear of what may be released if the fear energy were to be released
 - In a child may indicate that family dynamics are limiting child's full expression of assertiveness, passion or creative communication
 - Parasites
